While Other Schools Junk Programs, Canyon's Stick With Basics

While other schools across the country are "coming back to the basics" of education, after discovering the various "new" approaches to coursework, the Canyon school district's got no place to go.

They've been with the basics all along, according to Mrs. Ruth Holladay, secondary curriculum coordinator, and Mrs. Vondene McGregor, elementary coordinator of the Canyon school system.

Mrs. Holladay said there are various reports in various nationwide publications outlining the shift back to the basics of education from the more innovative and new techniques incorporated in many school systems during the 1950s and 1960s. The reports indicate the new approaches didn't work for many reasons.

"Generally nationwide, they're saying maybe we're better off with the one-room schoolhouse," she said.

They're saying, too, she says, that the so-called "new" approaches to such solid subjects as mathematics and English, have not been successful in providing basic skills for publicly-educated children.

It's without any smugness that Mrs. Holladay and Mrs. McGregor say that the Canyon school district "never jumped on an educational bandwagon."

Many school districts in the '60s, they believe, did jump at innovation, possibly because a wealth of federal funds had been made available for experiments in education. Now that the federal money has been halted to an extent, they believe, many of those involved in the innovations have been forced to assess the value of the innovations.

"We didn't make this big swing," Mrs. Holladay said. "The ones who did are having to come back."

They're coming back, for example, to such things as old math, old English and phonetics for the teaching of reading.

The so-called "new" math, which gave parents headaches for years as they and their sons and daughters struggled with a new vocabulary and new methods, has largely been dropped in many areas in favor of a return to the old style mathematical teaching methods.

Mrs. Holladay said new math was not so much new math as it was old math expressed in new terms and designed to achieve different purposes.

"The new math stressed why you do things rather than the how," Mrs. McGregor said.

She said the Canyon district never fully accepted the approach of the new math.

"It is important for children to know why 2 plus 2 equals 4, but they also have to know it and how to compute it," she said.

As new math evolved to frustrate parents and mathematically-disoriented students, so did new English evolve with a new approach to the study of language.

Mrs. Holladay said the new English was basically a linguistic and scholarly approach to how and why the language works as it does, one with less stress on the application of language to communication.

But, the Canyon schools also resisted this effort to modernize the study of English and, as in mathematics, are still providing basic English courses the likes of which other schools, which opted for the innovative, are now returning to.

In the teaching of reading skills, the story is virtually the same. While some schools in the nation opted for new approaches to the teaching of reading, the Canyon schools retained a reading program grounded in phonics supplemented by word recognition.

Resisting the temptation to opt for the "new" approaches to the various disciplines has been difficult, Mrs. Holladay and Mrs. McGregor said, and the difficulty was enhanced for a number of years because approved textbooks were nearly all oriented toward the various new approaches to subjects.

During those years when texts concentrated on the new math or the new English, for example, Canyon teachers were urged to use the textbook less and rely on their own research or outside sources to continue to teach traditional methods.

But, the philosophy which (See SCHOOL Page 5)

Creative Writing A Part Of Basics

While finger-painting, drawing and coloring are almost a staple diet for the pre-schooler and early grade students, another of the basics Canyon elementary school teachers are stressing is creativity in another vein—writing.

Armed with basic abilities to read, first-graders in the Canyon system are urged to use their new abilities early on in their first year to create their own stories.

Mrs. Vondene McGregor, elementary curriculum coordinator, said the use of creative writing not only allows students to express themselves with words, but also increase their interest and their ability to read.

She said the children find it very exciting to be able to write their own stories.

That the first-graders have a good time with their newly-learned writing skills is obvious from a review of their works.

Chuck Somerville, for example, created this story:

"Ones upon a time, there was a little brave indian. His name is little Wolf. He is out cacing some deer for his tribe. He is going in the woods. He is hoping he can catch some deer for his tribe to eat. But one day a bear trid to catch Little Wolf to eat for supper."

Carl Bourn contemplated life as a monkey to describe how he'd act:

"If I was a monkey, I'd sneak out of bed at night and go outside and climb a tree. I'd swing to tree to tree and play tricks on people who come under me. I'd jump on them."

$1 Million Budget Gets City Okay

Without a comment from any interested citizen, Canyon city commissioners Monday night approved a $1 million budget for the fiscal year which begins April 1.

Mayor Manly Bryan opened a scheduled public hearing on the new budget and paused to allow any interested resident to have his say.

"Don't everyone stand up at once," the mayor quipped, and no one did.

Only a half dozen students from a West Texas State University government class, along with a handful of interested bidders, were present at the meeting. None responded to the mayor's invitation.

After closing the public hearing, it was only a perfunctory matter to approve the 1975-76 budget which calls for expenditures of $982,048 and revenues of $982,820.

City Manager Glen Metcalf recommended commissioners include in the budget funds for the purchase of a $1400 boiler to heat the city swimming pool this summer, rather than beginning to construct a solar heating unit for the pool's operations.

In a memorandum to commissioners, Metcalf suggested that the cost of a complete solar unit would be about $10,000, somewhat higher than originally anticipated, and that the project could not be completed by this

Hospital Showing Profit

If Canyon's new Palo Duro Hospital continues operating as it has its first month in existence it will carry on a long-standing and unique tradition — it will show a profit.

Administrator Ray Grimes told board members of the South Randall County Hospital District Monday night the first month's operation of the new hospital has been surprising.

"Everyone's pleased the first month went as smoothly as it did with the additional expenses," he said.

Grimes said heavy purchasing for each department of the hospital accounted for an increased out-go of funds and indicated he had feared the purchases might unbalance the hospital's books.

However, when hospital officials tallied up the financial statement Monday, they learned they were in the black about $200.

Grimes said the first month financial report could be a favorable indication of the financial picture to come.

He said the hospital had an average of 18 patients per day during its first month of operation. The hospital has 50 beds, but several are not in use because the hospital district hasn't enough funds to purchase equipment to furnish them.

Grimes was administrator of Neblett Memorial Hospital, which closed when Palo Duro

Hospital opened, and reported that hospital had a good financial picture. So good, in fact, that when board members of the South Randall district went to New York to check out the bond market for revenue bonds they received almost unheard-of ratings.

Grimes reported to board members during the meeting Monday that initial requirements for accreditation for the new hospital have been completed and a visit from the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation can be expected soon.

The commission threatened to pull accreditation from the old Neblett Hospital, forcing board members to seek alternatives, the final one of which was construction of the new facility in East Canyon.

Board members adopted a utilization review plan proposed by the medical staff of the hospital and required by new federal legislation. The plan calls for a review board to review the hospitalization of each Medicare or Medicaid patient within 24 hours after admittance to the hospital.

Various forms required of the federal government to assure compliance with recent civil rights legislation were also filled out and okayed by the board. The forms primarily assure that no persons can be prohibited from using the hospital's facilities due to sex, race, creed or origin.

Sunflowers, Sugar Beets, Corn Cropping Up In County Fields

Bright yellow sunflowers will make the jump from the fence row to cropland this summer as several Randall County farmers, particularly in the West part of the county, begin planting the Kansas state flower as a cash crop.

County Agent John Brazzil said a major national food processing firm has contracted about 200,000 acres of Panhandle cropland for production of a hybrid strain of sunflowers to produce oil for the firm.

Several hundred of those acres will be in the western part of Randall County, he said, as farmers begin looking for ways to diversify their cash crops.

Brazzil said the move toward planting of sunflowers will be a relatively new thing for Randall County farmers, although sunflowers have been grown in other states for many years.

Planting is expected to begin in May with harvest in August or September, he said.

Brazzil said the hybrid expected for use here will be a short-stalked plant which can be cultivated.

The county agent said sunflowers will not be the only unusual crop for a county which is primarily concerned with production of wheat and grain sorghum. He said many farmers, again particularly in the Umbarger area, have become interested in the production of sugar beets.

He said the Holly Sugar plant in Hereford has apparently been swamped with interest in growing the beets, with the high prices brought for crops last year.

Brazzil said there could also be a revived interest in growing corn as a grain crop rather than for ensilage this year, as farmers begin lessening their interest in grain sorghum, a crop with a questionable demand due to the slack nature of the cattle feeding business.

He said many farmers are becoming increasingly more concerned about having the best crop mix for the most return, particularly in light of the dramatic losses experienced in cattle and the fluctuating prices for grain.

The demand for grain sorghum will probably be affected next fall by the lack of cattle on feed in the Panhandle, he said, and this will also affect the interest in growing the crop this year.

Most Randall County farmers are banking on this year's wheat crop, planted on a record number of acres and blessed so far with adequate moisture, he said.

Cattle brought into the county, largely by out-of-state or out-of-county owners for winter grazing, are now being moved off wheat fields and into markets.

Brazzil said it is unlikely many farmers will opt for grazing out their wheat crop, with prospects better than in recent years for a record summer harvest.

Probation Office Needs Doubted

Juvenile Probation Officer Harold Mann wanted a worn-out sheriff's department car when he went into commissioners court Monday afternoon, but before his session with commissioners was over he was called on to justify the recent growth of his office staff.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher grilled Mann on why the juvenile probation office has three officers now when only a few years ago the office had only one officer.

Mann defended himself by citing figures from 1974's report on the number of juveniles handled by his office.

It all started when Sheriff Cliff Longest outlined for commissioners the low and high bidders for three new automobiles for his office. Mann had asked commissioners last

Executive Session Held, But New Coach Not Hired

Principals Have Their Say On Overcrowding In Canyon's Schools

Canyon school district principals, in the midst of preparing projections for campus enrollments next fall, brought their troubles to the school board Tuesday night, troubles they say could be alleviated by construction of new schools.

The principals added their assessments to those made in previous weeks by Supt. Jerry Jacobs, who has suggested expanded use of portable classrooms and the purchase of a central administrative office building to give more room to the campuses.

Board members, who last Thursday approved the purchase of the old Neblett Hospital building in downtown Canyon for use as administrative office space and possibly for certain classes, had heard the story before. The only action they took Tuesday night to help ease the crowding problem, which is prevalent on every campus, was to give the go-ahead on seeking cost estimates for construction of additional dressing room facilities for the high school.

The discussion on the need for the dressing room space for classes and athletics at the high school spurred further discussion on other pressing needs at the school.

CHS Principal John Sommer told board members he also needs storage space for the various fine arts activities and that the band program is cramped for space in a band hall designed to hold 80 students but now accommodating 110.

"We have a library facility that as far as the Southern Association standards are concerned is well below the standards on the number of students it can seat," he said.

Junior High Principal Dave Corley, with more than 900

students this month, said the student population is simply "outgrowing our facility."

"What we have is fine, but it's going to get worse before it gets better," he said. "We're just at a maximum and we hope we'll build one of these days."

Corley said he is already figuring that student classes will have to be scheduled in the school's auditorium next fall. He said in addition to a two-classroom barracks building the district plans to locate on the junior high campus, he could use another portable classroom.

Luther Lawless, principal of Gene Howe School, told the board he has two portable classrooms now at his campus and could use four more for next fall. The school now has an enrollment of about 550 students and was designed for about 500.

Jacobs has indicated Canyon district voters will be asked next fall to approve a bond issue for construction of new schools. The board has authorized preparation of plans for a new high school-junior high and a new elementary school.

He said one stop-gap measure for next fall to ease the elementary-level overcrowding might be to change the boundary lines for attendance at each of the lower-grade schools. He indicated it might be necessary to put the Siesta Mobile Home Park in the Rex Reeves Elementary School district as well as Mesalero Park, both of which are now in the Gene Howe area.

In other business Tuesday night, board members re-hired teachers for all Canyon campuses for a one-year period. The only teachers not on the rehired list were three CHS coaches, whose fate will await the arrival of a new head football coach.

During executive session following the regular meeting, board members further pursued applications from potential head coaches. No decision was made during the session.

The board approved a calendar for the next school year which calls for a starting date of Aug. 20 and a closing date of May 28.

They also approved the reappointment of Fred Begert, Earl Marrs and Larry Hooper to the school district board of equalization.

A recommendation from the school textbook committee for adoption of texts for next year was also approved. The texts were adopted for various courses, including elementary language and science, junior high reading, high school speech, math, Spanish and others.

A raise in the travel allowance and per diem allowance for out-of-district travel was okayed. The raise is from a current 12 cents per mile to 16 cents per mile and from $18 per day to $22 per day. The change was suggested by the state board of education.

The board approved a request from School Business Manager Ron Woods that the faculty be asked whether they would be

A CHARTER MEMBER of Canyon's Sue Hite Club, Mrs. Mark Foster, center, visited with current club members at the club's monthly meeting Monday afternoon, March 17. Inspecting the club scrapbook with Mrs. Foster, who was visiting here from Bell Flower, California, are Mrs. Ishmael Hill, left, hostess for the afternoon and Mrs. Larry E. Holman. The club is presently making final plans for a Golden Anniversary celebration to be conducted April 19 at 2 p.m. in the Baptist's Student Center at 2500 4th Avenue.

Texas Heritage And Culture Discussed By Sue Hite Club

"Our Texas Heritage — a Melding of Many Cultures" was the theme of the program given by Mrs. Jewell Hill, Sue Hite Study Club Chairman, Texas Heritage Department, at the regular March meeting of the club.

Mrs. Hill discussed in depth some of the major cultures influencing Texas. She particularly spoke of the finding of bones called Midland Minnie that are representative of the people who lived in the area from 8,000 to 18,000 years ago. She described what is believed to be Texas' oldest remaining art, three large carved boulders, carved about 10,000 years ago.

The changes that came about as man got bows and arrows, learned to plant and raise domestic animals, mastered weaving, developed religious systems and tribal organizations, were also discussed.

Alibate flint quarry was discussed as probably the first commercial enterprise of the area by Mrs. Hill.

At first the Spanish interferred little with Indian life. The Indians influenced the naming of area or towns such as Seminole, Caddo Lake, Comanche, Quanah, and Waxahachie. The early recorded history of Texas is mainly Spanish. The Spanish introduced the first stockman's association, the trail and drives and gave us about three centuries of influence through Spanish rule.

Clubwomen Hear Judge Speak On Women's Role

Judge Mary Lou Robinson spoke on "Women's Challenge Today" as she addressed a luncheon group of the University Study Club of Canyon Friday, March 14, at the Amarillo Club.

Judge Robinson was the first woman appellate judge in Texas and began her law practice some 25 years ago. She was selected by the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women as the 1973 Woman of the Year.

The speaker informed the group of clubwomen that "women in Texas have had equal rights for some 2 1/2 years" and she suggested that all women should bring the best they can to society and be accepted as themselves.

Judge Robinson used Robert Townsend's "Up The Organization" for several examples and stressed that being woman can often times be considered an asset for many jobs as women can identify easier with many jobs than their male counterparts.

The traditional University Study Club's own branding iron was presented to Judge Robinson as an appreciation gift following the luncheon program.

meeting Monday, March 17, in the home of Sandie Martin.

Elected to serve with Nell Haws for the coming year were Carrie Bertrand, vice president; Sandie Martin, recording secretary; Vi Taylor, corresponding secretary; Jeri Rozell, treasurer and ways-means chairman; and Marilyn Pitt, extension officer.

The sorority chapter also selected Monita Benham and Nell Sims to serve as chapter advisors.

Plans were discussed regarding a chapter bake sale to be conducted at Cooper's Thriftway on March 29 and a rush vote was taken. Nell Sims was the winner of the door prize.

Rituals will be conducted at the next regular chapter meeting on April 7 in the home of Vi Taylor.

Present Monday evening were Nell Haws, Carrie Bertrand, Marge Sharp, Vi Taylor, Marlene Howell, Jeri Rozell, Sandie Martin, Marilyn Pitt and a guest, Monita Benham.

Heritage Woman's Club Meets With President

Fifteen members of Heritage Woman's Club gathered Monday evening, March 17, at the home of the president, Mrs. Jimmy Marrs, at 5303 Pico Drive in Amarillo for the monthly business-program session of the club.

The meeting was opened with the patriotic song "America" as led by Claudine Lehman and the club collected led by Donna Cavrich. The membership answered roll call by displaying their gift items which will be taken to the boutique at the Top of Texas District Convention on April 4-5. Boutique items will be sold at the convention with funds going toward the TFWC Headquarters Building in Austin.

A federation report was given by club member, Harriet Brandon, who is presently serving as the district junior director of the Top of Texas District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Brandon presented a painting of her own which will be awarded in a drawing at district convention to raise funding for her travel expense as the district junior director.

An invitation from Canyon's Sue Hite Club regarding their Golden Anniversary Celebration was presented to the membership of the HWC at Monday's meeting. The conservation department report was given by Janie Louderashe presented a program on "Doing Your Own Thing In The Vegetable Garden" and presented club members with literature on gardening. She also followed up last month's program on the "art of baking breads" by distributing recipe leaflets on breadmaking to members.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation by members of a "potpourri" of projects made by members including needlepoint, ceramics, crewel, liquid embroidery, scratch art, tote painting, decoupage, crochet, macrame, watercolor art, ecology-memory boxes and seamstress clothing in addition to poetry and essays composed and read by members.

Guests for the meeting in Mrs. Marrs home were Mrs. Lee Sorrells and Mrs. John Ashford.

ORDER AND NOTICE OF COUNTY SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION

THE STATE OF TEXAS County of Randall WHEREAS, under the terms and provisions of Chapter 17 Sub-Chapter A, Texas Education Code, an election is to be held in Randall County, Texas, on Saturday, April 5, 1975, for the purpose of electing 2 members to the Board of County School Trustees of said County.

Said Education Code further provides that the election officers appointed to hold the election for district trustees in each school district shall hold the regular election for Board of County School Trustees and that all candidates' application for place on the ballot must be filed with the County Judge not less than 30 days prior to the date of the election and that said election be ordered by the County Judge at least 30 days prior to election day and said order must designate as polling places within each common or independent school district the same places at which votes are cast for the District Trustees.

NOW, THEREFORE I, Woody Pond, in my official capacity as County Judge of Randall County, Texas, do hereby order that an election be held in Randall County, Texas on the 5th day of April 1975, for the purpose of electing to the Board of County School Trustees of said County the member of said Board elected from Commissioner Precinct No. 2 and the member of said Board elected from Commissioner Precinct No. 4.

Said election shall be at the following places which have been heretofore designated by the trustees of the school districts located within this County, to-wit:

1. In Canyon Independent School District at Canyon Community Center and in the election officials appointed to hold the election for said district's trustee election (both absentee voting and regular polling place) shall hold said county school trustee election.

2. In Canyon Independent School District at Gene Howe Elementary School, and the election officials appointed to hold the election for said district's trustee election (both absentee voting and regular polling place) shall hold said county school trustee election.

The polls at the above designated polling places shall on election day be open from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 7:00 o'clock p.m.

The returns of the election shall be made to the County Clerk within 5 days after said election and delivered by the County Clerk to the Commissioners Court to be canvassed by the Commissioners Court.

A copy of this order shall serve as notice of said election and said notice shall be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation published in this county and said publication shall not be more than 25 days nor less than 10 days before the date of the election or said notice shall be posted in each precinct in which this election is to be held at least 20 days before said election.

week if he could keep one of the three sheriff's cards to be traded or sold when replaced by the new automobiles.

Seated at the far end of the long commission table, Mann became the focal point of conversation before commissioners got around to making a decision on Longest's bids.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi began the questioning of Mann by asking why he needed three cars for his three staff members, and whether he could just get along with just two cars.

"Everybody keeps calling for cars, cars, cars," Fulgenzi said. "I have nothing against your department, but I'm just trying to keep from spending the taxpayers' money."

Mann said an additional car is needed due to the odd hours the probation officers must work. They must, he said, be available virtually on a 24-hour basis to handle calls concerning their cases, and likewise must be prepared to go to any part of the city on short notice to handle juvenile problems.

"We need it for convenience," he said. "But, we can make do." Fletcher side-stepped the issue of whether another car should be assigned the office and bore in, rather, on whether three juvenile probation officers are actually needed for the office.

"You were getting by with two people until this subsidy came along for this gal and then you needed her," he said. "Now we have to furnish her with a car. Is she necessary?"

The third officer in the juvenile probation department was added recently after funds were received by the county through the federal manpower program.

Mann said the workload of the office has increased more than 140 per cent in 1974 as compared to 1973. And, he said, it might be possible to staff the office with only one officer, but he would be able to do only a half-way job.

"We don't do a half-way job," Fletcher said. "If you need the gal and the car to adequately take care of the juveniles, then you need it."

Commissioners agreed to allow Mann the additional car, one with nearly 100,000 miles from the sheriff's department, and also voted to purchase three new Pontiacs from Stevenson Motor Co. of Canyon for $13,545. The other two used cars from the department will not be traded in on the new automobiles, but will be sold later.

Commissioners were not enthusiastic about the plan presented Monday by Richard Rutledge, chief of the adult probation department in Amarillo, a plan he said is designed to provide state funding and loose supervision for regional adult probation departments while leaving control of the organization in local hands.

Rutledge outlined legislation which is to be presented this session in Austin. The legislation would provide for a continuation of the current fee system used by the adult probation department whereby each probationer pays a fee to the office for guidance. But, it would provide that for each probationer on the rolls, the of-interested in a payroll deduction whole life insurance group program under Blue Cross. Wood said school employees now have the opportunity through the group insurance program to purchase term life insurance for themselves only, with no option for whole life for themselves and their families.

Jacobs reported to the board that work continues in the state legislature toward perfecting a school finance reform package. He said the bill pushed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe would apparently have the most adverse affect on the Canyon district, even though in the past he has said all four bills concerning school finance reform would in some way be to the detriment of the Canyon district.

Board members agreed to meet with concerned parents in the Gene Howe school area in late April to discuss plans for future school expansion in the area and to discuss the board's position on allowing the Amarillo School district to annex land from the Canyon district. Lawless requested the meeting.

underlies the Canyon school system is one rooted in practicality. Mrs. Holladay and Mrs. McGregor agreed that it is the purpose of the 12 years of public education to prepare the student to deal with the world not only with the ability to describe how or why something works, but more importantly with the ability to do or to perform.

And, they say that if Canyon has resisted the bandwagons of various educational innovations, it has moved with deliberation toward those things which would improve the educational program.

The system, for example, has abandoned the concept of categorizing students into classroom situations according to ability. The accelerated, regular and basic classrooms have given way to an integration of students of varying abilities in one classroom setting.

Likewise, the district is moving away from the staple standardized achievement test to categorize the abilities of students. Rather, Mrs. Holladay said, testing is now being designed to help teachers determine how much of a subject or course a student knows, so his individual program can be assessed and designed to meet his individual needs.

This particular move is part of a larger, overall movement spearheaded by Mrs. Holladay and Mrs. McGregor toward more personalized classroom instruction.

In describing the program for school board members last fall, the two coordinators characterized the move toward personalized instruction, wherein teachers work to meet the educational and motivational needs of students on an individual basis, as a return to the philosophy or style of the one-room school-house.

Rooted in the concept that students learn in different ways and are motivated to learn by different means, the move toward personalization stresses a teacher's ability to identify how one student learns best and to design a teaching program to meet his individual needs.

What it all adds up to, say the coordinators, is a continuing effort on the part of the school system "to improve what we're doing with children."

Forage Fed Beef Gains Acceptance

Lightweight or forage fed beef is gaining consumer acceptance. This is due partly to the lower price of this product, according to Mrs. Becky Hall, County Extension Agent.

In lightweight beef, there is a reduction of marbling and fat covering which affects flavor and juiciness. However, on a lean for lean basis the nutrition is the same as grain fed or heavy beef.

The preparation and cooking of lightweight beef is similar to that of veal. Moist heat methods of cooking are recommended for less tender cuts of lightweight as well as grain fed beef. More tender cuts of lightweight beef can be prepared by dry heat methods of cookery provided the beef is basted with fat. Also marinades are recommended to enhance the flavor of lightweight beef. A new free publication available from the County Extension office explains the methods for cooking lightweight beef. You can obtain "Let's Cook Lightweight Beef" by calling Mrs. Hall at 655-3341 or by writing Room 101 Courthouse, Canyon, Texas, 79015.

MEN-WOMEN

Join the people who've joined the Army.

A lot of young men and women have discovered a good place to invest their time. The Army. What they've found here, they may not have been able to get anywhere else.

Some came to learn a skill. With training in over 300 kinds of jobs to choose from. Some came for the chance to work in Europe, Korea, Alaska, Hawaii or almost anywhere in the U.S.A.

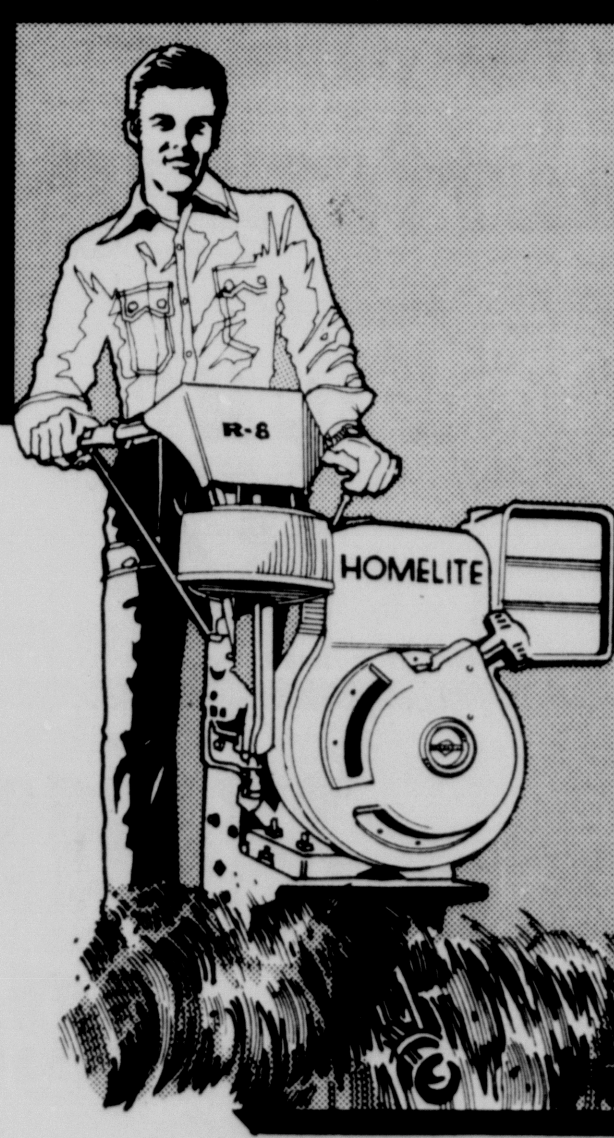

Some came to meet a unique personal challenge. Like the responsibility of doing a good job at an early age. Some came to get a start on their college education. With the Army paying up to 75% of their tuition.

And some came to do something positive for their Country. Which is a pretty good reason in itself.

New Families Move Into Park

By DORIS MCKEE
SUNDAY AND MONDAY were beautiful days and it made you feel that spring was really on the way. Then, the rain came down and Monday night out our way it began to pour and before it was over we had gotten a fairly nice rain!

Got up Tuesday and the sun was shining big, bright and pretty again.

MONDAY WAS ST. Patrick's Day and it's supposed to be for the wearing of the green. I never gave it a thought until, I was in Ideal and suddenly, I got pinched. I decided not to hang around town long and hurried back to the safety of my own home.

WE WERE VERY sorry to hear about Mark Huey being in an auto accident this past Friday night. Did learn that he is doing fairly well and has been released from the hospital now. Mark is the son of Jim and Jan Huey. They are ex-park residents and Jim used to be park manager.

WE HAVE A couple of new families moved into the park recently. Would like to extend a big welcome to Alvin (Buck) and Joan Risner who have just moved here from California. Buck is Peck Risner's brother. A welcome also to more ex-Californians, Bobby and Leta Wisley and children Mary and Jim, who have taken residence at 201 La Fiesta. We hope all of you will be very happy here at Siesta.

A NEWS NOTE that I missed last week. Raylene Qualls' grandmother Mrs. Alma Wright of Meadow, Texas was visiting a friend, Mrs. Hiram Nance in Idalou, Texas last weekend. On Sunday they decided to drive up here for a short visit. Raylene said it was a very nice surprise and a good visit.

TALKED TO JO ANN

Pingle Saturday evening. She and Ron had company for the weekend. Gary and Jackie Good and their 4½ month old son Justin from Perryton, were here. Gary is JoAnn's brother. Seems we did have some residents who drove southeast to Palo Duro State Park Sunday. Kenneth and Linda Shaffer and family, and James and Sharon Jones and their family all went down and looked around. They were there to try to decide on a campsite and report a very enjoyable time.

Charles and Clarice Heglin who moved here, toward the end of last year, made their first trip to Palo Duro Canyon on Sunday. Clarice said they were very impressed and are anxious to go back and try out the park facilities.

PEARL WEST SAID Larry and Donna and boys, Zane and Shawn, came out Thursday night for a visit. Sunday night Pearl got a call from some ex-park residents, Howard and Betty Curtis and daughter, Shawna, who were at a motel in Amarillo for the night. Pearl and Dale drove in to see them. The Curtis's were enroute from Memphis, Tenn. to Colorado.

JACK AND VERA Huddleston and family, and Ruby (Granny) Huddleston spent Sunday afternoon at Lake Meredith for a boating outing.

EUNICE AND BARNEY Rinehart's daughter and family, Charlotte, Tom and Laine McWilliams were here for a visit Saturday afternoon. On Sunday Bobby and Jo Rinehart came for a visit and a piece of homemade chocolate pie. Kenneth and Doris Wallace put that Volkswagon into gear again and drove to Belton, Texas to visit their son and family, Bob and Liz Wallace. They also enjoyed the time they could spend with Trudy Ann, the granddaughter who will be 6 months old next month.

JIMMY AND JACKIE Judkins of 222 LaFiesta spent this weekend with a great Aunt and Uncle, Orbie and Ethel Tomlin, in Breckenridge, Texas.

KENNETH AND BARBARA Lett have a house guest for a few days this week as Jo Adams, who is moving to Amarillo from Dallas, will be

WOULD LIKE TO wish Kenneth and Linda Shaffer a very happy anniversary. They celebrated their 13th anniversary Sunday March 16.

They went to the cafeteria and ate, then took in a movie.

SEEMS RAYLENE AND Paul Qualls were finally able to get a night out. It has been four months since the baby was born and they hadn't had a change to get out. Judy and Joe Giesler took the Qualls and another friend, Annie McClain out to dinner Saturday night.

Annie's husband, Frankie was able to join the group after dinner and they all spent an enjoyable evening together.

Paul Qualls, Jr. had a good time Saturday night too when Jeff Giesler spent the night with him.

OUR BOY SCOUT Troop has an overnight camp out ready to roll. They will be in Palo Duro Friday night, March 21 and all day Saturday.

RAYLENE QUALLS IS having a liquid embroidery party on Tuesday, April 1 at 9:30 a.m. at 226 La Fiesta and wants to extend an invitation to anyone who might be interested.

GUESS IT'S TIME to say so long for this week but keep on reading.

Thought for the week, "Spring is when the cold vanishes and in it's place things begin to green, trees bud and bloom, and the yards get full of people who come out of hibernation."

April Mission Set For Umbarger

By REBA RAEF
HELLO, FROM UMBARGER.

We now have more information on the Mission which will be held in St. Mary's church here beginning April 13. The retreat master will be the Reverend Rocco Perone, a Paulist Father from Austin.

The evening services will consist of a Mass and a sermon, followed by a discussion period.

Some of the topics Father will talk on are "the Archie Bunker Syndrome," reconciliation and confession.

The mission will continue through the 15th and there will be a separate renewal for children. Do keep these days free, so you may attend all services.

OUR HOLY WEEK services will start next Sunday with the blessing of the palms in the parish hall before the 8:00 Mass. There will then be a procession to the church and there will be a Mass Thursday evening at 8:00.

The Good Friday service, The Way of the Cross, will be at 3:00 p.m.

The Easter Sunday services will start with the Easter Vigil at 7:00 a.m., followed by two Masses, at 8:00 and 10:00.

NEXT TUESDAY, MARCH 25, the Knights of Columbus will sponsor the monthly charity supper in the parish hall. The chairman will be Johnny Beckman.

So, come eat with us and help the Catholic Children's Home at the same time.

There will be cards and dominoes in the Columbus Club Hall, following the supper.

THE CHARLEY BECKMANS have had visitors from Frankfurt, Germany as Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Artstath and daughter, Ernie visited here last week. They had visited relatives in Buffalo, New York and Leavenworth, Kan. before coming here.

Last Sunday, the Beckmans took the Artstath family to Dalhart to visit with the Melvin Przilas family. They left Tuesday to visit relatives in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Artstaths are cousins of Katherine Beckman.

JOE AND OLA Wieck have returned from a combined business and pleasure trip. They attended a school for officers of Telephone Co-ops in Las Vegas.

With the Wiecks from the Mid-Plains Rural Co-op were R. W. Shackelford, mgr.; Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Sadler, he is the president, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds. Earl is a director.

Ola said they were kept so busy attending the work sessions, that they saw little of the sights in Las Vegas.

After the school was over, the rest of the group came home and the Wieck's went to Burbank, Calif. to visit with Ola's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Retz, Sr. and their families.

After their stay in Burbank, they went to Phoenix to visit with some more of Ola's other cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beale and their families. They were gone about 12 days.

Ola said that it rained, or had just rained every place they visited and that the flowers were just beautiful.

Three Swimmers Earn Ratings At Contest

Three Canyon swimming students participated in the Golden Spread Invitational swimming meet in the Amarillo Town Club receiving several placings for their sponsoring teams.

Swimming for the Amarillo Aquatic Club were Darrell Glenn, a Canyon High School sophomore and son of the Don Glenns north of the city; and Sheila Hicks, a sixth grade student of Gene Howe Elementary school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hicks, north of the city.

Another Canyon student, Joe Beltz, a sixth grade student of Rex Reeves Elementary School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beltz of 1010 4th Avenue, Canyon, was swimming for the Maverick Club in the event.

Miss Hicks was on the first place relay team in the 400 yard freestyle relay event. The team took first place with a double A timing and others on the team were Lisa Martinez, Martha Gerkin and Eileen Archer. She was also in the second place 400 medley relay team which had a double A time rating and included other relay members, Eileen Archer, Laurie Fields and Heidi Harman.

Results of the two relay events qualified Miss Hicks to participate in TAGS to be held in Dallas during April.

In the B-time qualifications for 11-12 year old girls, Miss Hicks was first place in the 100 yd. breaststroke; third place in both the 50 yd. freestyle and 100 yd. backstroke events. She also took a fourth place in 200 yd. freestyle, and fifth places in the 100 yd. freestyle and 200 yd. individual medley swimming events.

In B-event competition the relatively new swimming competitor Darrell Glenn participated in the 50 yd. freestyle, 100 yd. and 200 yd. freestyle events, the 100 yd. and 200 yd. individual medley event.

Joe Beltz, who swam for the Maverick Club, in 11-12 year old boys events took a senior section second place in the 1,650 yd. freestyle events. In other 11-12 year old events he had a second place 500 yd. freestyle, a fifth place 100 yd. freestyle, and a second 100 yd. backstroke. He had B-timings of third place in the 50 yd. freestyle events, a first place in 200 yd. individual medley, and a sixth place in the 200 yd. butterfly stroke events.

An A-swimmer, Beltz has qualified for the Texas Age Group Swim (TAGS) meet in the 500 and 200 yd. freestyle events and for relay competition also.

Hoss Ratliff slides safely into third base during a game this week which pitted his Canyon High School Eagles against Amarillo High School. The Eagles led going into the 7th inning, 2-1, but back-to-back homers by AHS beat Canyon 5-2.

Sprinters Lead Buffs To Tech

West Texas State's strong crop of sprinters lead the Buffs into the Texas Tech Relays Saturday in Lubbock.

The Buffs will be one of seven teams entered in the University Division of the meet. There will also be a five-team junior college division, and the West Texas State women will run some exhibition races with the Texas Tech women. The meet starts at 1 p.m.

Alvis Wright was the top WT performer for WT in the Arlington Relays last week end, only the first outdoor competition for the team this year. Wright was clocked in 9.6 in the 100-yard dash. "That's an excellent time considering the conditions," Buff coach Bob Kitchens related. "It was cold and wet, and that held down the times."

West Texas placed fourth in the Arlington meet as the sprinters scored 28 of the team's 50 points. In addition to Wright's second place in the 100, the Buffs scored second places in the 440-yard and mile relays.

Saturday, Wright will be joined by his brother Karl, Robert Dennis, and Curtis Lindley as they try to lower their 42.6 clocking in the sprint relay at Lubbock. Rick McGuire will substitute for Lindley on the 880-yard relay team.

No team points will be kept at Lubbock. The meet will feature five relay events with only the 120-yard high hurdles, the 440-yard intermediate hurdles and 100-yard dash scheduled for individuals.

Welch Grant Given Prof.

Dr. Gene Crowder, head of the chemistry department at West Texas State University, has received a research grant of $54,000 from the Robert A. Welch Foundation. The grant, which will become effective on June 1, is for three years.

The research project is entitled "Vibrational Spectroscopy." In this work, the vibrational frequencies exhibited by the atoms in certain compounds of interest will be measured experimentally and calculated theoretically in order to gain knowledge about the molecular structures and about some of the forces between atoms within the molecules. Most of the compounds exist in several molecular configurations, and these configurations will be determined.

A complex mathematical equation, containing more than 100 terms, that expresses the potential energy of vibration will be determined for each of several series frequencies of more complex compounds in the series. This will aid in the interpretation of the experimentally determined vibrational frequencies. Such interpretations are necessary for several types of study of the chemical properties of the compounds.

In addition to providing money for research equipment, chemicals, and supplies, the grant will provide approximately $25,000 for graduate fellowships and undergraduate scholarships.

Russell Alan Gibbs

City Student To Travel

Russell Alan Gibbs of Canyon is one of about 200 Baylor University students who will travel to Singapore and Malaysia during Baylor's spring break in late March.

The trip will be from March 19 through 31 and is sponsored by Baylor's Baptist Student Union (BSU) and the Southern Baptist Convention's Foreign Mission Board.

Gibbs is the son of Marion R. Gibbs of 1406 8th St. Place 36 in Canyon. A senior religion major at the Baptist university, he is a 1971 graduate of Midland High School. He also has attended Odessa College.

Gibbs is a member of Alpha Epsilon Chi, an organization for men planning church-related careers.

Students going on the trip will share Christ through evangelism and Christian training of young Christians in the two countries. This is the first time the Foreign Mission Board has ever used students in evangelistic work overseas, and this is the first time Baylor has sent out students to do evangelistic work to this extent.

Financing of the trip, about $850 for each student, will be provided by the students through work projects and contributions from their home churches. Baylor ex-students and interested Texas Baptists. Donations may be made in a particular student's name for his own finances or may be given to a general fund for the trip.

Netters To Try Comeback

Stung by a disappointing third-place finish in their own team tournament last week, West Texas State's young tennis team attempts a comeback of sorts this week in the Rice University Invitational tournament in Houston.

The Buffs failed to win their team tournament for the first time in five years Saturday as New Mexico came away with a 5-4 win in the semifinals. The Lobos went on to whip Oklahoma State 6-3 in the finals. "Anytime you lose, it's disappointing," WT Coach David Kent allowed.

"But I think New Mexico showed how good a team they have by trouncing Oklahoma State in the finals. Remember, we came within an inch of beating

New Mexico."

Kent's team salvaged third place by beating rival Texas Tech 5-1 in singles play. With WT assured of the third place finish, doubles were not played by
